

Organizing a Manta Ray Symposium, Oceanography-2013 Conference

The International Conference on Oceanography was held during August 21-23, 2013 at Holiday Inn Orlando International Airport, Orlando-Florida, USA.

The Oceanography-2013 was a remarkable event which brought together a unique and International mix of Oceanography & Marine science Researchers, leading universities and research institutions making the conference a perfect platform to share experience, foster collaboration across industry, academia, and evaluate emerging technologies across the globe.

Our principal investigator, Dr. Csilla Ari was asked to organize a Manta Ray Symposium which was a great success and attracted lots of interest. We heard some very interesting talks and collaborations were established between different countries and organizations. 33 countries were represented on the conference giving a broad overview on the advancements in ocean science and marine research.

<http://www.omicsgroup.com/conferences/aquatic-marine-biology-2013/>

<http://www.omicsgroup.com/conferences/oceanography-symposium/>